Storm-Swept Eastern States Battle to Get Business and Production Back to Normal

By The Associated Press

Storm-swept eastern states, reeling from devastating blows from weather's elements, struggled today to get business and production back to normal.

The herculean job was being waged by thousands. They fought to clear areas of snow from the weekend storm which struck with paralyzing fury over wide parts of 22 eastern states.

The death toll from the winds, blizzards and cold mounted, with 278 fatalities in the storm-stricken region. Damage to property mounted to astronomical figures—estimated in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

Big Steel Center Is Slowly Emerging From Snow Mantle

Pittsburgh, Nov. 28—(P)—A small army of humans labored today to roll back the 28-inch mantle of snow that changed this steel center's bustling pace to a slow walk.

And across the state, other workers struggled to clear away mud and debris left by flood waters and gale winds.

Although the winds had subsided and rain-swollen streams were returning to their banks, new trouble was being created by drifting snow—closing some roads as soon as they were cleared.

A new snowfall, this time covering the entire state, added to the cleanup and clear-away problems today. The additional depth was reported by the weather bureau as ranging from one to two inches, hardly noticeable atop the mountainous snowbanks in western areas of the commonwealth. But in Philadelphia, where it was the first measurable snow of the winter, street-cleaning crews were busy and traffic moved at slightly reduced speeds.

The storm that struck Pennsylvania last Friday night and continued into Sunday was one of the most violent and certainly the most unusual in the state's history.

West of the Allegheny mountain range, snow blanketed cities and towns with up to 35 inches reported over a 60-hour period. The death toll in the Pittsburgh area stands at 14. Across the state it is 35.

Two Out-of-Town Hunters Reported as Missing But Are Believed To Be Safe

Ralph A. Albert, of Union City, admitted at Warren General Hospital about three o'clock yesterday afternoon after being wounded in the left leg by a stray bullet near Brookston, is reported as in good condition this morning.

Game Commission officials are still investigating the shooting, and said that Albert, who was interviewed at the hospital this morning, disclaimed any knowledge of where the bullet came from.

The projectile entered the lower part of the calf of his left leg. It may have grazed the bone, but no fracture resulted. Doctors said that Albert should suffer no ill-effects from the wound.

The investigation is in charge of Game Protector George Miller, of Forest county.

Two out-of-town hunters were reported to state police as missing last night, and indications are that the men spent the night in the woods. They are Albert Irvine, 35, of Philadelphia, and John Mays, 35, of Pittsburgh.

Irvine was hunting with a party of nine near Limerlost and did not report in at dark. Members of his party are attempting to trail him this morning.

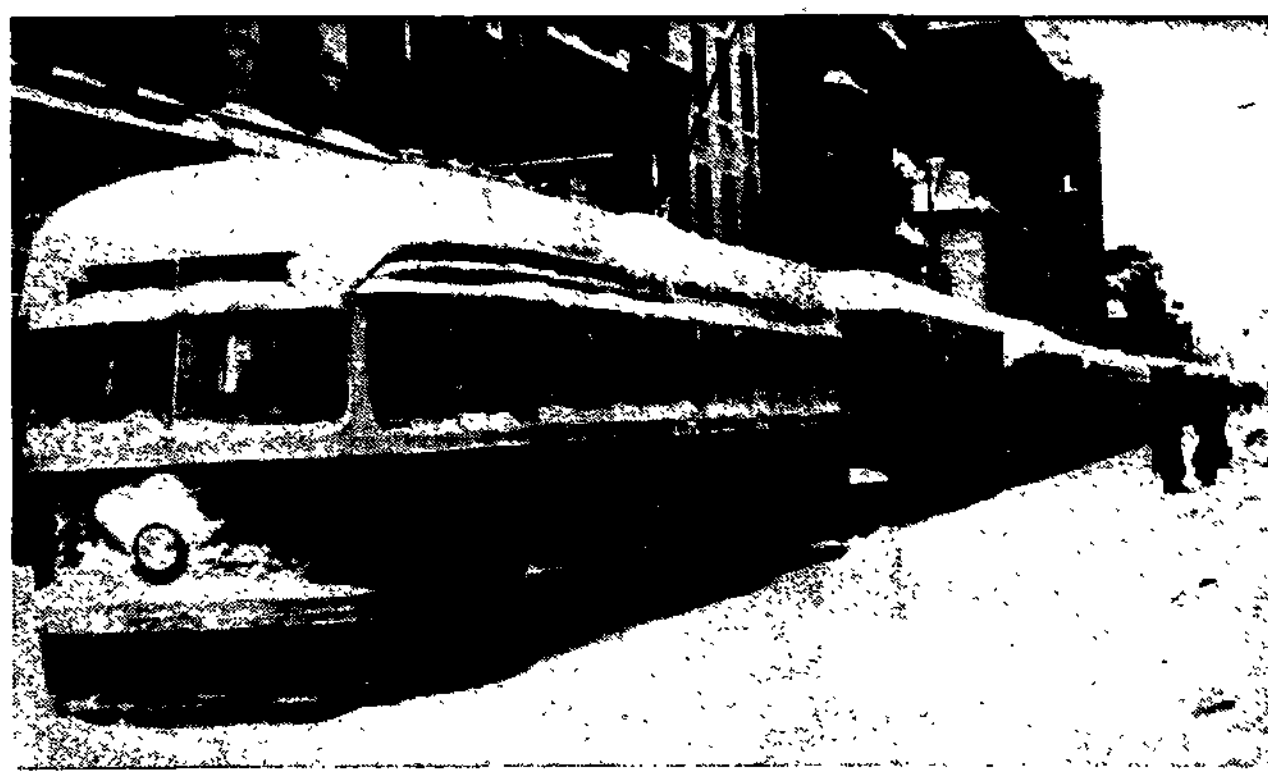

Mays, whose wife is staying in Warren, was reported as missing in the Kinzua area.

Both men are dressed warmly, and state police feel that they will show up today as other hunters enter the woods.

The lightest kill in many years marked the opening day. It was officially estimated this morning that the kill in the county did not exceed 300 yesterday, and hard work was necessary for the lucky ones.

County Treasurer Frank B. Miller estimated that nearly 1,000 of state hunters had purchased licenses in his office. Indications are that about a third of the usual number of hunters were abroad in the county yesterday.

One serious injury was reported from Venango county when Curry (Turn to Page Eight)

STREETCARS WAITING—A long line of streetcars is stalled in Pittsburgh, a virtual wasteland under 25½ inches of snow, with more on the way. The steel center was one of the hardest-hit areas in the big storm that crippled the East. Record-breaking low temperatures added to the general woe.

Continued Freezing Weather Big Factor In Helping to Eliminate Flood Danger

Temperature that dropped as low as zero in some sections during the night proved a big factor in helping to send the Allegheny river below the threatening flood stage of Sunday.

This morning at seven o'clock it registered 12.6 and was still dropping. Unofficial reports had the mercury as low as zero at Clarendon and four below along Jackson Run.

The task of removing the accumulation of snow in the borough, variously estimated at from 18 inches to two feet, is proceeding slowly. All streets have been opened, and large crews are busily engaged in removing snow piled along the curbs in the business section.

A special effort is being made today by Mechanic George Croft to free all fire hydrants in the borough, many of which were practically lost from sight in the heavy snowfall and subsequent plowing of the streets.

Motorists are still traveling cautiously and the parking meters have been almost forgotten. The dry snow makes driving hazardous even at slow speed and motorists without chains find themselves almost helpless in many instances.

Many cars marooned by snow that fell, along with that which was plowed against them by state or borough equipment, are being rescued. One of these was a sedan with a New York license plate, which had been snowed up in front of the Times-Mirror office since Friday. It was taken out today by Halle's garage on orders from the borough police.

The rush on service stations for chains, anti-freeze etc., along with help in thawing out frozen brakes, subsided perceptibly Monday and today.

Nine teachers of Warren borough schools have still been unable to return from Thanksgiving vacations because of weather conditions, while two arrived today by morning train and resumed their teaching duties this afternoon.

With all hunters but six back at classes in the high school and buses picking up as many students as could be reached, the absentee list showed only 102 this morning in contrast to 270 out of school yesterday. Principal Floyd Bathurst stated he expects normal operations will be resumed by Thursday.

A check on county schools shows that Youngsville classes will definitely be resumed tomorrow. Inasmuch as their schedules usually coincide with that of the borough, it is expected that township buildings at Pittsfield, Garland, (Turn to Page Eight)

CHANGES TEACHERS
New York, Nov. 28—(P)—Margaret Truman, no longer taking singing instruction from Helen Traubel, the Metropolitan opera star—has shifted to a regular singing coach, Sidney Deitch of Danbury, Conn. Miss Truman announced the change yesterday, confirming reports that she left Miss Traubel's tutelage last June. Both women denied any unfriendliness.

U. S. Eighth Army Stockade, Tokyo, Nov. 28—(P)—Lt. Leon Gilbert informed that President Truman had commuted his death sentence to 20 years at hard labor, said today "that's a long time to be guilty."

Gilbert, a 31-year-old negro, was convicted of misconduct in the face of the enemy in action in southeastern Korea last July. The verdict was reviewed by his commanding general and then sent to judge advocate general's office in Washington for review. It then went to the president for final review. The president's decision was announced Monday in Washington. Gilbert said he does not consider himself guilty of the offense as charged.

"It was very good to know that I am not going to be executed," he said today, "but 20 years is still a long time to be guilty."

Says Mental Patients Seem to Enjoy Video

Philadelphia, Nov. 28—(P)—A mental hospital superintendent has given indirect support to a view long held by some of television's severest critics.

Speaking before the Pennsylvania Hopetown Association last night, Dr. Arthur Noyes of the Norristown State Hospital, said:

"I have seen patients who have not spoken one word in months, eagerly watching television. Television brings the activities of the outside world to patients who have a tendency to live in a world of their own."

Most of Altoona Is Still Without Electric Service

Altoona, Nov. 28—(P)—There is still no electric power in most of this city of 82,000 today an official of the Pennsylvania Electric Company said it may be weeks before normal service is restored.

A weekend steel storm, part of the havoc wreaked by nature all over the east, knocked out power service in Altoona and many other Blair County communities.

Normally six Penelac transmission lines provide electricity to Altoona. There is only one in operation today.

William H. Wade, vice president of Penelac, said he can not tell when complete service will be resumed but it may be weeks. A crew of 500 repairmen is working to restore damaged lines.

Residents are making use of candlelight for illumination and kerosene stoves for heating and cooking. Others, without emergency arrangements are moving in with neighbors.

At night Altoona is a city of darkness. There are no street lights, no Neon lights, no lighted window displays.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, which maintains large shops here, is using an emergency power system of its own to keep signal equipment in operation.

Schools, much of the city's industry and public places are closed for the duration of the emergency.

SUFFERS BAD BURNS

Pittsburgh, Nov. 28—(P)—Mrs. Dorothy Mustin, 37, wife of Attorney Henry Mustin, is in very critical condition from burns suffered in a fire at her Squirrel Hill home.

A sheet of flame, apparently from a gas explosion, swept through the luxurious home yesterday. The fierce fire which followed destroyed the Mustin home and badly damaged the other half of the duplex. Firemen estimated the loss at $50,000.

CABINET RESIGNS

Paris, Nov. 28—(P)—The French cabinet decided to resign tonight after the national assembly censured Defense Minister Jules Moch for his alleged part in an internal scandal.

MacArthur Reports Offensive Launched Five Days Ago Has Turned Into Bitter Reverses

Washington, Nov. 28—(P)—The United States today publicly charged Communist China with aggression in Korea.

The charge was made by a State Department spokesman and immediately backed up by the White House.

"Whatever the State Department has done is done with the knowledge and approval of the president," said President Truman's press secretary, Charles G. Ross.

The charge—together with the massive counter-offensive of the Chinese hordes in Korea—raises the possibility that an extremely grave chain of events will now develop.

President Truman was being kept "fully informed" of the grave turn of events in Korea, Ross told reporters. He noted that Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, would confer with the chief executive later in the day and then remain to brief a cabinet meeting.

The aggression charge was first voiced publicly by state department press officer Michael J. McDermott. He referred to a special communique issued by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo, declaring that U. N. forces in Korea now face "an entirely new war."

Tokyo, Nov. 28—(P)—General Douglas MacArthur warned today that the non-Communist United Nations face "an entire new war" with the Red Chinese hordes crushing down on his retreating troops in Korea.

He said also in an extraordinary communique that he lacked authority to cope with the undeclared Chinese belligerents who now build their massive offensives with immunity from Allied air attack in Manchuria.

The commander of troops representing 53 non-Communist nations spoke out at a time of greatest crisis.

His cosmopolitan Eighth Army of 110,000 battle-hardened troops was in retreat all along a flaming 75-mile front in northwest Korea.

His hope of ending the war by Christmas was a shattered dream.

His hopeful "end-the-war" offensive launched only five days ago had turned into bitter reverses.

MacArthur summoned his two top field commanders, Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker and Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond from the battlefronts to Tokyo for emergency conferences.

He urged that the U. N. and all governments seek a solution to the developing crisis of Chinese Communist intervention.

The high commander said Red China had hurled 200,000 troops against U. N. forces in Korea and is throwing more thousands across the border from the "privileged sanctuary" of Manchuria.

Field dispatches underscored the developing crisis. They said masses of night-fighting Chinese Reds were pouring through a widening gap in the Eighth Army's right flank.

This was in the Tokchon area where fierce Communist assaults threw back three South Korean divisions as much as 20 miles.

Air observer reports said the Chinese were swarming like locusts "along every road, every gulch and every ridge" for 35 miles north of Tokchon.

central and northeast Korea faced fresh masses of Chinese Reds.

Twenty-one Chinese Red divisions—8,000 to 10,000 men each—were reported officially identified (Turn to Page Eight)

British Air Ministry Decides To Look Into Stories About Flying Ice Blocks

London, Nov. 28—(P)—The British air ministry set up "Project Ice-Bolt" today to find out if England is being bombarded by flying saucers—or what.

Reports of strange ice falls from the sky have been pouring in from many parts of southern England for two weeks.

In Devon dozens of chunks whizzed down into a flock of sheep a fortnight ago, killing a ewe, said the reports.

Last Friday a piece weighing five pounds crashed through the roof of a London garage.

Yesterday D. J. Tunmore said he saw a block 12 inches long and four inches thick plummet from the clouds as he was riding his motorcycle near Braughing, in Hertfordshire. It landed, unbroken, in a plot of grass only three feet from him.

About the same time, a one-pound brick of an odd transparent material bounced to earth in front of the home of R. M. Butler in the Essex village of Stebbing.

"It is neither ice nor glass," (Turn to Page Eight)

TRAIN AND AMBULANCE IN RACE WITH STORK

Charlevoix, Nov. 28—(P)—The crew of a Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad train and an ambulance driver teamed up to win a race with the stork yesterday. Snow-clogged roads prevented any attempt to make the entire trip by ambulance.

Mrs. Rose Wilson, 23, of nearby Newell, gave birth to a daughter in the Charlevoix-Monessen Hospital two hours after she was rushed there in the caboose of the freight train and an ambulance. She rode 15 miles in the caboose to Belle Vernon and finished the trip by ambulance.

They said at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing that brakes of both trains were not examined in full compliance with ICC rules.

Only the brakes of the first and last cars of each train had

MALIK SEEKS TO PREVENT AUSTIN MOVE

Washington, Nov. 28—(P)—The United States decided today to charge Communist China with aggression in Korea.

Assistant Secretary of State John D. Hickerson so advised the American delegation at the United Nations by telephone.

Hickerson telephoned Ambassador Warren R. Austin shortly before today's U. N. Security Council meeting at New York. It was considered possible here that Austin would make the aggression charge publicly almost at once.

This is a step which the American government has heretofore refrained from taking on the ground that to charge any nation with aggression might set in action an extremely serious chain of events since once an aggressor is so labeled there is strong pressure to act against him.

Lake Success, Nov. 28—(P)—The United States today charged Communist China with outright and naked aggression in Korea.

It called upon the United Nations Security Council to face the consequences squarely.

In one of the most critical meetings in the Council's history, Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin spoke directly to a representative of Communist China, Wu Hsiu-Chuan, who arrived here Friday and sat in the Council for the first time yesterday.

Russia's Jacob A. Malik delayed the U. S. speech for more than an hour while a capacity crowd listened tensely.

The Soviet move came immediately after the United Nations Security Council convened to take up a general debate on both the Korean and the Formosan issues. A few minutes earlier it was announced in Washington that Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin had been instructed to bring the charges of aggression.

Austin hastily revised his prepared speech to include some new sections. Dealing with the large-scale Chinese Communist intervention in Korea.

Several delegates had before them copies of Gen. MacArthur's communique calling for diplomatic action to solve the threat to U. N. forces in Korea.

The Chinese Communist delegation, headed by Wu Hsiu-Chuan, sat at the council table. Malik demanded that WU be heard ahead of Austin.

A U. S. delegation spokesman said the United States had no intention at this time of submitting a resolution embodying formal charges of aggression by Red China. Instead, he said, Austin would continue to back a six-nation appeal for the withdrawal of the Chinese Communist troops.

CHANCES FOR FLOOD ARE REPORTED SLIM

Cincinnati, Nov. 28—(P)—The chances of a flood in the snow-bound Ohio river valley are slim, the U. S. Weather Bureau said today. It classified the snow as dry. Forecasters also said they do not foresee any rain within the next few days.

If the 30 inches of snow were wet the chances of a flood would be increased. Army engineers said their computations show the snowfall in the entire Ohio Valley upstream from here would be equivalent to about an average of an inch and a half of rainfall.

CHILDREN INJURED IN APARTMENT BLAZE

Corapolis, Nov. 28—(P)—Fire of undetermined origin broke out in the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schmidt, Sr., on Neville Island, injuring two of their children and another man.

Ralph Schmidt, Jr., 4, and Jerry, 10 months, were admitted to St. Wickley Valley Hospital along with Lawrence Baumbler, Mrs. Schmidt's brother.

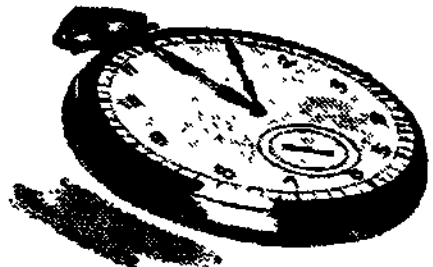

Firemen from two companies confined the blaze to the single apartment in the frame structure last night.

Conductors on Two Ill-Fated Trains Claim Brakes Were Not Completely Tested

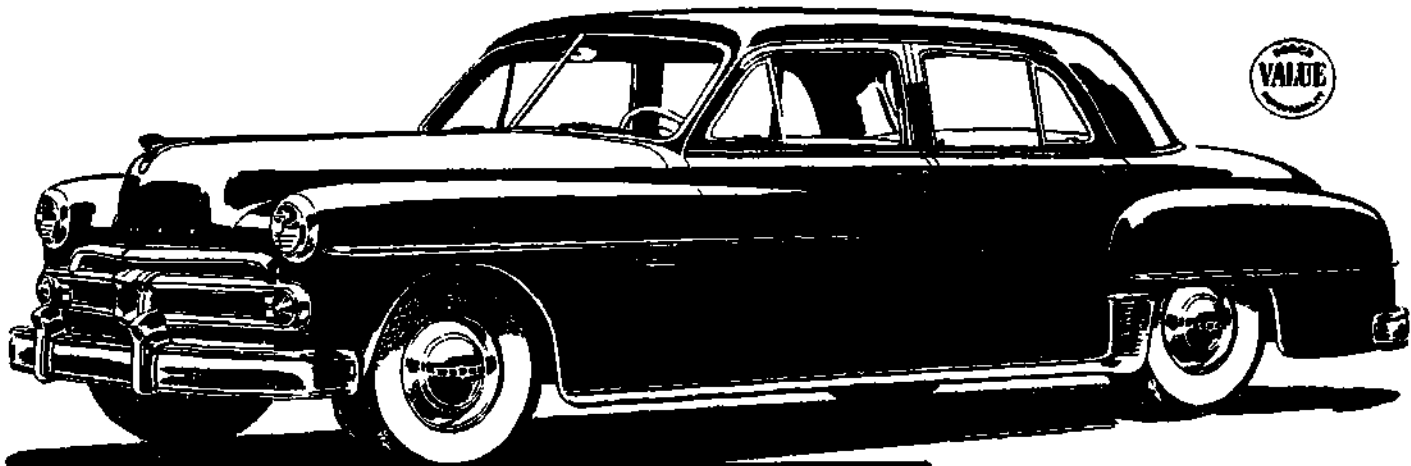

New York, Nov. 28—(P)—Conductors of the two trains in the Long Island Railroad disaster that took 77 lives testified yesterday that the brakes had not been fully tested.

They said at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing that brakes of both trains were not examined in full compliance with ICC rules.

Only the brakes of the first and last cars of each train had

Plans Progressing By Phalanx Group For "Twirp Dance"

Plans were nearly completed for the "Twirp Dance" to be held December ninth, when members of the Phalanx Fraternity met at the YMCA last evening for their regular weekly meeting.

The dance is to be held in the Canteen building and the proceeds are to go to the Canteen building fund.

Deane Swanson is general chairman for the affair, while Gordon Odmark is in charge of the floor show. John Kylander the refreshments and Ralph Hoffman the tickets.

Boys of the fraternity volunteered to work in the building Wednesday night of this week to get the place in shape.

Jack Updegraff, basketball manager of the frat team, reported that uniforms have not arrived yet, but a practice will be held in the "Y" gym at nine o'clock, December 6.

A number of members also volunteered to help work with the Jaycees on their Christmas project tonight and Thursday night above Kinnear's.

Youngville Is Fast Digging Out From Under Heavy Snow

Youngville, Nov. 28—Youngville had its share of heavy snow over the weekend, but now the streets and walks are cleared and most of the private driveways cleared away to the garages. School was closed Monday and today. The school was closed not only because it was difficult for the buses to get through from rural sections, but because some of the teachers spent their Thanksgiving vacation away and because of difficulty in travel were not back Monday.

The closing of school was not the hardship you might think to some of the pupils. The boys old enough to go hunting were rather glad and a number spent Monday in the woods doe hunting. Several local hunters brought in does Monday. Harvey Garis and son, College street, both got a doe on the first day.

The closing of the Methodist church is meeting Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Baumgardner. The Cradle Roll secretary has requested that as many as can will bring some little article in Christmas wrapping suitable for the members of the Cradle Roll of the Sunday school. This will include children from babyhood through kindergarten age. Please bring these articles which will be given at the Cradle Roll Christmas party, to the meeting Friday, so they can be marked and be ready when this party is held.

Sunday evening Youngville fire department received a call to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight. The fire was soon being confined almost entirely to closet where some Christmas paper and other inflammable material in some manner caught fire. The family had gotten the fire somewhat under control before the company arrived and it was soon out without doing extensive damage.

Pilot's Body Found In Plane Fuselage

Meadville, Nov. 28—The body of Ensign Robert E. Baumgardner, 22, of Cloverdale, Mich., will probably be found in the crumpled fuselage of his Navy Corsair fighter plane which crashed near Saegertown Friday afternoon.

The only large piece of wreckage remaining has not been touched pending study by investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board. The last report from the FBIU Corsair was about 3:20 o'clock Friday afternoon when the pilot radioed he was flying on top of the overcast over the Butler-East Liverpool. About ten minutes later the ship crashed in a swampy field on the Kiser farm in Hayfield Township.

Bristles in virtually all tooth-brushes and hair brushes made in 1949 were of nylon, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

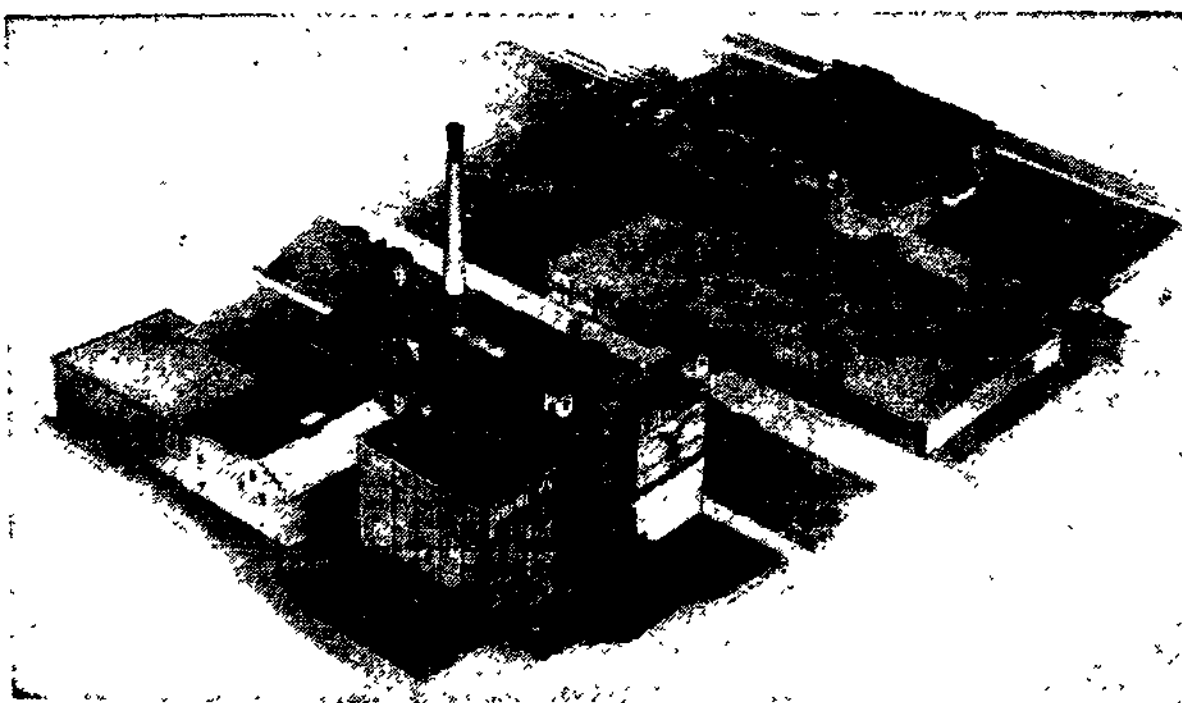

ROOF COLLAPSES

The heaviest single item of damage in the Kane area due to the snow occurred Saturday morning when the roof of the Truskan Products Company collapsed under tremendous weight under the rain-soaked snow which caved the walls in. All machinery and equipment in the plant which were being assembled for start of operations within the next few months were in the collapsed building. The plant, entirely rebuilt following a disastrous $100,000 fire on last May 19, was being readied for reopening. The roof ordinarily would have held two feet of snow but the rainfall of Saturday was held responsible for the roof's collapse. Harry B. Truskan, president, said damage would be around the $20,000 mark. Emergency crews went to work shortly after the collapse in an attempt to salvage all they could and get the roof back into condition.

New and Modernized Brewery at Erie

ERIE'S NEW BREWERY: Above is an aerial view of Koehler's "new" brewery in Erie, where a modernization program has just been completed at a cost of more than a million dollars. The official opening occurred today.

The official opening of KOEHLER'S "new" brewery, at 22nd and St. Streets, Erie, occurred today.

This event marked the completion of modernization of brewing, bottling and other facilities throughout the plant (begun almost five years ago) and the first official view of the new building on East side of State Street which provides 60,000 square feet of space for bottling, warehousing and office accommodations. The new building fronts 238 feet on State Street and extends half way back to French Street. Also included was the air conditioning of all offices. Many phases of the present modernization are not apparent to the eye of the passerby. Of course, the outward evidence of modernization is the new building, but included in the effort and costs are many other things which are not seen. For example, some of the things which have been done in the last 5 years and for which the total cost is approximately one million dollars are: the engine room, from which power to run the brewery comes, was completely overhauled and two new 350 horse power boilers installed. A new mash tub and cooker were purchased and installed which enabled the brewery to double brewing capacity and bring it up to 400,000 barrels per year. New filter, and a new filter room and new glass lined storage and fermentation tanks were purchased and installed.

Two new bottling lines were put into operation, and extensive remodeling in the part of the old building, still standing plus cost of air conditioning, new system of package handling and new office equipment bring the total cost up to approximately $1,000,000.

NEAR ZERO

A low of four degrees was shown on the Pennsylvania Gas Company thermometer at its mixing plant on Conewago avenue about 8:30 a. m. today, falling to the low from a 22 above at one a. m. One of the unexplained mysteries locally is why the temperature hits its low spot just as the sun appears. Reports from outlying districts gave temperatures as low as four below. The gas company record at Royston, one of the cold spots, was two above zero.

Youngsville To Have Yule Decorations Again This Season

Youngsville, Nov. 28—Youngsville merchants and business people are planning, as in the past, for Christmas decoration of homes in the community. There will be prizes for the finest and unbiased judges will make the selection for winners. Many complimentary remarks have been heard in the past for both home and community decorations and present plans indicate a banner year for holiday beauty.

The American Legion Rifle Club, meeting at the Legion Home range, won from Jamestown with a close score. Four positions were used in shooting, prone, sitting, kneeling and offhand standing. The score was 1392 to 1361. The local team lost to the Bradford Rifle Club, shooting from two positions and a score 931 to 927.

The December meeting of the afternoon group of the WSCS will be held at 2:30 p. m., December 1st, with hostesses Dorothy Baumgarden, Mrs. Millie Peoples, Mrs. Rapp and Mrs. Sec. Mrs. R. M. Knapp will be the program leader. Plans will be discussed for the bazaar to be held in the church basement Wednesday, December 6th, with the Circles taking charge of the bazaar and the WSCS taking charge of musical program and tea. There will be articles suitable for Christmas gifts, as well as food dainties of various kinds.

The union Thanksgiving service held in the Methodist church was very well attended. An organ prelude opened the service, followed by a choral "Call to Worship." The Rev. J. B. Sheffer, pastor of the church on Brown Hill, gave the opening prayer, followed by a choral response. The responsive reading was led by Rev. Harold Lindquist, pastor of EUB church. The Gloria Patri followed. Rev. C. J. Franzen gave the Scripture reading. Elton Barton led the Methodist choir in the anthem, "Accept Our Thanks" by Sibellus. The offering, to be used by local churches in defraying expense of the annual Vacation Bible Schools, was dedicated for service by Rev. Charles Smith, with prayer. Appropriate hymns of Thanksgiving were interspersed with other features of the program. The speaker, Rev. D. E. Fye, pastor of Youngsville Free Methodist church, gave a strong and spiritual Thanksgiving message, with the central thought, "The Unspeakable Gift of the Father, His Only Son, Our Christ." The benediction was given by the pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. E. W. Chitester, followed by an organ response and the postlude.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

Scrooge asked Marley's ghost if there was any way he could avoid the same fate as Marley. The ghost replied that Scrooge had one chance—a slim one.

"You will be haunted," said Jacob Marley's ghost, "by Three Spirits!" "I think I'd rather not," quavered Scrooge.

And with that, Marley was gone, leaving a badly shaken Scrooge behind him.

Weak with fright, Scrooge climbed into bed as soon as Marley's ghost had fled.

But Scrooge had slept hardly a wink before he was awakened by a strange apparition. "Who are you?" gasped Scrooge. "I am the ghost of Christmas Past—your past," said the visitor.

"Rise and walk with me!" commanded the Ghost of Christmas Past. Reluctantly, Scrooge obeyed.

RELIGION AND TROUBLED TIMES

One of the more interesting developments of these troubled times has been the great groundswell of religion. Millions are turning to the church for answers to problems which non-spiritual guidance has been unable to solve.

It probably is no coincidence then that nine years of planning and effort is about to result in the establishment of the National Council of Churches, embracing 28 Protestant churches with a combined membership of more than 51 million persons.

The Council is the outgrowth of a three-day meeting of 1200 delegates at Cleveland late in November. Some church leaders have referred to this meeting as "the most important gathering of non-Roman Christians in the history of the American church."

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill saw it as "proof of the underlying spirit of cooperation among the churches and a promise that in action together we will face the great issues and opportunities of our time."

The National Council is a merger of eight national interdenominational agencies. They are the Federal Council of Churches; Foreign Missions Conference of North American Council of Religious Education; Missionary Education Movement of the United States and Canada; National Protestant Council on Higher Education; United Council of Church Women; and United Stewardship Council.

No merger of denominations is envisaged but the functions of all of these fine and worthy interdenominational bodies will be united. And from that union none can doubt that greater strength will come and greater good be done. Onward, Christian Soldiers!

NEWSPAPERS AND BUSINESS

The city of Pittsburgh has just found out what it is like to be without its daily newspapers for a prolonged period of time. Editions of Sunday, Nov. 19, were the first since a walkout of mailroom employees closed the three Pittsburgh dailies on Oct. 1.

A survey taken by a national advertising and public relations firm shows what happened to business and to individual readers.

Automobile dealers were unable to advertise new 1951 models and took losses ranging from 5 to 70 per cent. Beauty parlors estimated a falling off in trade of 20 to 50 per cent. Clothing retailers saw the decline as 25 per cent. Drugs, entertainment, florists, schools, sporting events all showed sharp declines.

A total of 92.4 per cent of people thought newspapers had become more important since they had been unable to get them. A total of 84.8 per cent said they found it difficult to find out facts or get them straight when newspapers weren't available.

Men missed chiefly, in order of importance: local news, sports, national news, foreign news, radio and television information, vital statistics, national news, food and cooking, comics and foreign news.

The survey organization footnotes these last two findings on men and women readers to the effect that people questioned may have had a tendency to minimize their real interest in comics and play up their interest in "more important things." Be that as it may, the range of interest covered the whole paper. One reader summed up his feelings as being without his paper: "It's like losing an old friend."

BLOODMOBILE COMING DECEMBER 13

During the coming few weeks, people in Warren and throughout the nation will be imbued with the spirit of giving. Suggestions for what to give are printed in every newspaper and spotted on every radio program. The American Red Cross suggests a gift that a person may give to humanity—the gift of one pint of blood on Wednesday, December 13 when the Red Cross bloodmobile returns to 404 Market street in Warren.

When you give a pint of blood under the national blood program, you offer the gift of life to some person who may desperately need blood without charge. You give to yourself an invaluable record of your blood type and Rh factor, a 'must' in case of atomic warfare.

Hundreds of people have given an hour of their time and a pint of their blood to this mighty cause. Many more have given more than once. The responsibility belongs to every citizen in Warren borough and Warren county. Make your Christmas appointment now. Phone 2926, Red Cross headquarters for complete details.

Bag and Baggage

Here And There

Fifty years ago before the now-forgotten idea of eating turkey the third Thursday in the month in the days when the traditional observance of Thanksgiving was the last Thursday, a football game between independent teams of Warren and Titusville was the highlight on the program for Warren. An article which appeared in the Evening Times of November 28, 1900, regarding plans for the contest said: "The All-Warren football team is in good condition for the big game with Titusville tomorrow afternoon. Manager MacDonald has spared no time nor expense to make this the greatest game of the season. The best local talent has been secured for the contest. The fire police will be at the game and will rope in the field, and will let no one excepting the officials and three press representatives within 20 feet of the sidelines. The crowd will also be kept away from in front of the grandstand. The team will be composed of Moore, left end; Borchers, left tackle; Mason, left guard; Winger, center; Woodruff, right guard; Wolfe, right tackle; Hassett, right end; Arnold, quarterback; Lytle, right halfback; Hesch, left halfback; Archibald, fullback; Leonhart, Wilkins, Cobb, substitutes. Bert Alexander will act as referee." (Note: According to an article on the first page of Friday, November 30, 1900, issue, Warren won the game by a score of 15 to 5, in what was described as "one of the cleanest and best exhibitions of football ever seen in this city. There were no dirty plays and no kicking on decisions of officials, while the crowd was large and very enthusiastic.")

Sixty years ago at this time local merchants were contemplating the possibility of a long run of "good sleighing weather" to spur business for the Christmas season. Says an item in the Evening Mirror of November 28, 1890:

Administration Backs Bill For Resources Development

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A vast program of U. S. natural resource development is being cooked up in the Department of Interior for possible presentation to the 82nd Congress. It will be presented as necessary to the national defense effort. It will include electric power development, production of scarce metals, more petroleum and natural gas, even a project for a couple of pilot plants to test the commercial feasibility of distilling sea water.

All this at first sounds crazy. It may be labeled non-essential at a time when only defense projects should get priority. It is government spending at a time when the call is for economy.

People in charge of planning these projects, however, put up quite an argument on the emergency nature of their problems.

Under the national defense program, Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman has been given the four-fold responsibility of developing power, minerals, petroleum products and coal.

Full programs have not been made, have not been cleared by the White House and the Bureau of the Budget. But it can be disclosed that they are in the works. Bills for some projects—like power, reclamation and sea water pilot plants—have been presented to the 81st Congress, where they have lain dormant.

THERE are certain political considerations behind all this, too. One explanation being given for the Democratic reverses in the last election has been that the party in power had no new program. It was on the defensive throughout the campaign. It was the Republicans—like Senator McCarthy—who followed the same tactics used in the 1948 campaign by President Truman, in constantly attacking.

One important factor in carrying the west for the Democrats in 1948 was that they had a big reclamation program to sell. The Republicans didn't have one. So various administration leaders are again pushing the idea of presenting the country with a definite program. The idea is to keep hammering at it, even though it may be defeated.

In the natural resource and defense planning field, one of the silliest sounding proposals is the sea water distillation idea. It is considered justified by several conditions which are apparent. New York has a fresh water shortage problem. The ground water level in California has been dropping steadily through uncontrolled drilling and pumping for irrigation. All through the west are deserts that would bloom if supplied with fresh water.

U. S. Navy, during the last war, perfected processes for distillation of sea water. Only small installations were in use, to supply drinking water on Pacific islands. But the Navy processes are considered adaptable to larger scale operations.

The plan under consideration would call for the installation of two pilot plants, one in California, the other in New Jersey.

ON electric power, it is claimed that the U. S. is now scraping the bottom of the barrel. It is made clear that there is no actual shortage now. Moreover, the private power industry has a big five-year expansion program. The only trouble is that extra power will be needed next year, not in 1955.

By coupling non-peak-load power from Bonneville and Shasta dams, it may be possible to install two or three pot lines in that area. For much-needed aluminum production, it will be necessary to use diesel engine powered generators, or steam power from coal or natural gas.

This will be high-cost power—too high for economical aluminum production. But the emergency makes necessary its use. Cheap power will determine where the new plants are located. Too high power costs in New England, for instance, rule out its consideration in choosing plant sites, though this area has other advantages.

Every effort is to be made to have private industry develop the new power sources. But where private industry can't or doesn't do the job, the government will propose to step in.

"There is snow enough on the ground to create fair sleighing and make the getting about on runners far more pleasant and profitable than on wheels, consequently the merry jingle of the sleigh bells supplanted the rattle of the iron tires. The recent cold spell has frozen the thin mud and the constant wear of the wheels has smoothed out the surface so that it took but little amount of the beautiful to make good slipping. The hiversmen as well as the merchants were very happy as visions of the coming harvest loomed up before them. These men have good reason to rejoice, for during the past three months about all they have wrestled with is the curbs and brush, and the thought as to how far a bushel of oats or a ton of hay would go. Judging from appearances at this time the downfall of snow is not ended by a large majority, and there is every prospect of a genuine old-fashioned run of sleighing. If such should be the case, it will be worth many thousands of dollars to this city, and give us such a holiday boom as we have not enjoyed in years."

This And That: Carlyle B. Morley, manager of the A. & P. store is busy these days receiving congratulations over the arrival of twins at the Maternity Hospital where Mrs. Morley and the young ladies are reported to be doing nicely. Congratulations, Carl and thanks for the delicious chocolates. Local business places, including restaurants, service stations and sports goods stores, that made special plans for the usual extra business that goes with the annual Sunday before deer season opens, suffered quite a setback especially those who had laid in supplies for the occasion; in some instances business was off as high as 75 per cent as compared to previous years, due to the unfavorable weather conditions. With favorable coasting conditions it behooves motorists to use extra caution at all times and especially on streets in the hillside districts. District Game Commission officials pointing out that deep snow and cold make the next few days "critical" ones for the small game and birds, urge area hunters and residents to put out food for wildlife. It is also suggested that deer hunters take along ears of corn and other grain to stick on trees or peg along fence rows since the natural food for birds and small game is buried under a foot or two of snow.

Talk of the Month Club Will Present Lecturer Tonight

The Talk of the Month Club will present their first lecture tonight at the Women's Club when Lowell Thomas, Jr., will give his illustrated lecture on Tibet. Admission is by season ticket only, and there are some season tickets available by calling at the YMCA or at the Woman's Club tonight. The doors will open at 7:30 p. m. and there are no reserved seats.

Mr. Thomas will doubtless have many highly interesting up-to-the-minute things to say about this strategic country of Tibet in the light of the present invasion of this mountain kingdom by the red armies. His gorgeous natural-color motion pictures of his trip will linger in the memory for a long time to come. See and hear him tonight at the Woman's Club.

State Farm Show On Way to Another Record-Setting Run

Harrisburg. —(P)—The Pennsylvania Farm Show, already the biggest indoor agricultural exposition in the world, is on the way toward another record-shattering run in 1951.

The five-day show, opening Jan. 8, already is assured of a record high in premium awards and in livestock competition entries. In addition, the poultry exhibit, machinery display entertainment program and many other features, will outdo last year's record showing.

The 1951 Agrarian Class also will celebrate a triple anniversary. It will commemorate the 100th anniversary of the first State Fair, the 35th anniversary of the present Farm Show, and the 20th anniversary of the giant 15-acre Farm Show building.

The first State Fair, forerunner of the Farm Show, was held along the banks of the Susquehanna river here on Oct. 29-31, 1851. The event continued for more than 50 years in various cities of the state before it gave way to the present farm show.

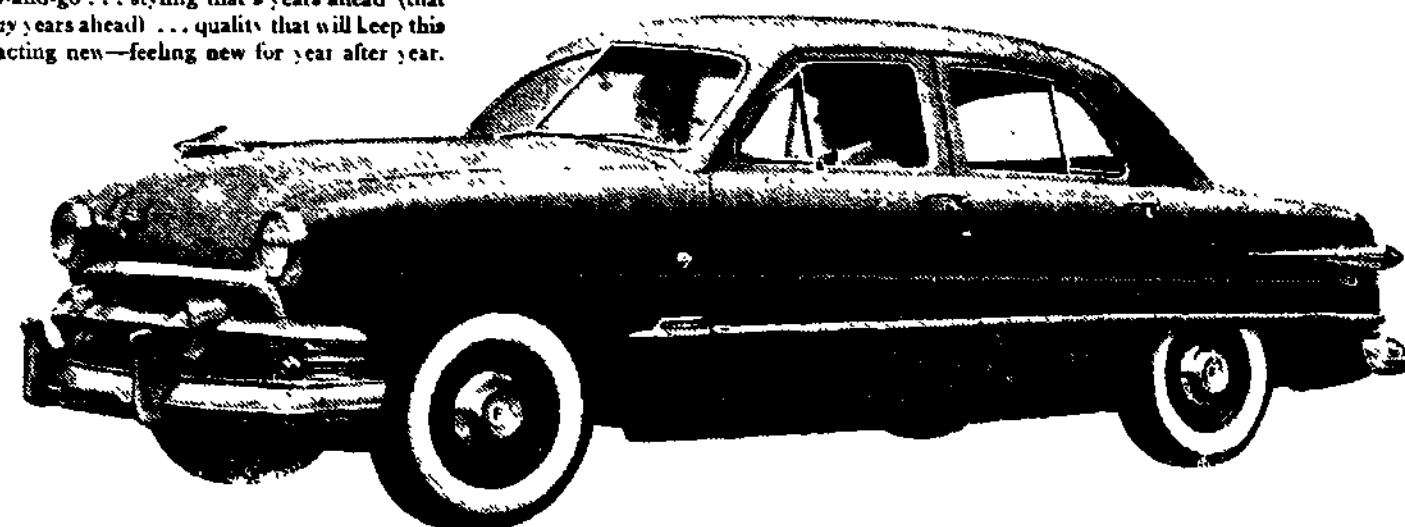

The present exposition was first held in Harrisburg in Jan. 1917. Large buildings scattered around the capitol were used to house the exhibits. This proved unsatisfactory and in 1931 the mammoth farm show building was completed and put in use.

Since the first farm show, 35 years ago, attendance has skyrocketed from 40,000 to over 500,000. Also contest premiums have climbed from a start of $735 to a record $54,476 for the 1951 show.

The 35th farm show will have available 570,000 square feet of

Paint Sprayer

"Ed" Kerr helps make gasoline furnaces used to melt lead and paraffin. As you might expect, many of these furnaces are bought by Bell Telephone. Thus "Ed" is another of the thousands of skilled people in Pennsylvania whose work and wages depend, in some degree, on Bell Telephone purchases.

As a customer, Bell does business with some 2,000 companies in more than 200 communities throughout the state.

Any way you look at it, the successful operation of the telephone business means a great deal to the steady employment of a great many Pennsylvanians, both in and out of the telephone industry.

Mrs. Arthur Heber, 4308 Hays Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio, is a busy little bee these days—she scurries around her kitchen cooking a hearty meal for that husband of hers; you ought to see her finish off the family laundry in just a matter of time. She is a bundle of energy these days and she wants everybody to share her secret of happiness. She found that by taking HADACOL her system gets those necessary Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin that it at one time lacked.

Mrs. Heber, who had been nervous for some time, said: "After I got on my feet I was still unable to eat anything. I knew my not being able to eat or digest foods properly was a result of a nervous condition. Then my husband heard how other folks were being helped by HADACOL. I started taking HADACOL immediately. Now I am on my seventh bottle of HADACOL. I can eat anything I want and actually enjoy it. My nerves are very steady and I know my nerves are all right because things that once irritated me don't bother me in the least now. I just can't thank HADACOL for making me feel so wonderful again."

You, Too, Will Be Pleased at the wonderful results HADACOL can bring to your life if you lack those necessary Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron elements that are so wonderful for indigestion, stomach disturbance (gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals), that general run-down condition, and nagging aches and pains, when caused by lack of these precious Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

HADACOL is so successful because it acts directly to relieve the cause of your trouble when due to such deficiencies. That's the kind of product you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

There is Only One HADACOL. Don't go through life suffering with a distraught stomach, nagging aches and pains, when relief may be as close as your nearest drugstore, if your system lacks B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.

Recognizing Difficult Problem Is a Big Step Toward Solution

"WHAT can a wife and mother do," asks a reader, "when she realizes that she has built her life on a false assumption, the assumption being that she is as important to her husband's happiness as he is to hers, that she is loved as deeply as she loves?"

"When she is forced to admit to herself that that just isn't true, then what can she do?"

Admitting it is a step in the right direction. For admitting an unpleasant fact is the first step toward acceptance of it.

Also it will keep her from always expecting more from her husband than he can give or is willing to give, and then being bitterly disappointed when what he offers in the way of devotion and understanding falls short of her expectations.

So once she has accepted the facts as they are she can go on to find security in other ways.

BE TRUE TO ONESELF
SHE can make up her mind to be as good a wife as she can, so that she can at least be true to her own best self.

She can try harder than ever to be a gentle, understanding mother, so that her children will not have to pay for the lack she feels in her own life.

She can give more of herself to friendships, so that she isn't as dependent on her husband as she would be if she made him her whole life.

She can keep herself from growing hard, bitter or selfish by finding some absorbing interest outside herself.

And she can look about her at other marriages and finally come to understand that love is rarely an exactly fifty-fifty proposition—that almost always in a marriage one partner's love is greater than the other's. But it can be that the one who loves the more deeply is the happier of the two.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

FOR those brightly wrapped Christmas boxes of homemade candies, here are some wonderful suggestions. Begin with molasses taffy—it's a winner.

Peanut Taffy

(Yield: 1½ pounds taffy)

One cup sugar, 1 cup unsulphured molasses, 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine. ¼ cup (3 bags) chopped salted peanuts.

Thoroughly mix first three ingredients in a 2-quart saucepan. Cook over medium heat to 270 degrees F. soft-crack stage (syrup is hard but not brittle when dropped in cold water). Stir in peanuts. Pour at once onto greased, large cookie pan or platter.

As edges cool, fold them toward center with spatula, or they will harden before center is ready to pull. (DO NOT DISTURB THE PART OF TAFFY THAT HAS NOT COOLED OR CANDY WILL STICK TO PAN.)

When candy is cool enough to pull, fold into a ball. Butter fingers lightly; pull until candy is light in color. Stretch into a long rope. ¼ to 1-inch wide. Cut into 1-inch pieces. Wrap each piece in waxed paper.

Chocolate Coconut Marshmallows

(Makes 4½ dozen)

One package (8 squares) candy-making chocolate, 28 marshmallows (7 ounces), cut in halves. 3 cups coconut, toasted.

Heat chocolate over boiling water until partly melted. Then remove from boiling water and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Stir marshmallows in chocolate, one at a time, roll in coconut and place on waxed paper. Cool until firm.

Nutty Creams

(Yield: about 1 pound)

One-quarter cup butter or fortified margarine, 2 cups sugar, ¼ cup unsulphured molasses. ¼ cup light cream or undiluted evaporated milk, 1 cup chopped nuts.

Melt butter or margarine in a 6-cup saucepan. Stir in sugar and molasses. Add cream or evaporated milk; mix well to dissolve sugar. Cook until syrup forms a soft ball in cold water (242 degrees F.). Remove from heat. Cool in a pan of cold water until can be held comfortably in palm of hand (110 degrees F.). Beat until creamy and candy loses its shine. (To shorten the beating time, stir in ¼ teaspoon confectioners' sugar.) Shape into balls (thickery-nut size). Roll in chopped nuts. Note: If candy becomes firm before balls are formed, stir in from 2 to 3 teaspoons cream or milk into the batch.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, scrambled eggs, crisp bacon, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Split pea soup with frankfurter rings, crackers, fruit salad, split and toasted rolls, tea, milk.

DINNER: Meat loaf, tomato sauce, baked potatoes, fruit salad, split and toasted rolls, tea, milk.

Acheson Asks for Concerted Backing

Washington, Nov. 28—(P)—Secretary Acheson gave Senate Foreign Relations committee a report today on the crisis in Korea and pleaded for united backing of whatever measures the administration takes.

There was a grave atmosphere at the break up of a two hour closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations committee with the Secretary of State. Some members said they regarded the present situation as tremendously threatening to American security.

Acheson himself would not talk with reporters but Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) issued a statement which said:

"He (Acheson) laid stress upon the vital importance of all Americans, regardless of party, uniting to support the necessary measures."

Connally also held a news conference at which he said the developments in Korea "make it clear that it is a government intervention by the Chinese Communists."

War News Sends Market Tumbling

New York, Nov. 28—(P)—The emergency created by the grave crisis in Korea sent the stock market tumbling today in a selling wave that carried prices down $1 to $4 a share.

Trading in large blocks of stock marked the opening rush of business. The ticker tape ran as much as two minutes behind actual floor transactions.

After the initial selling rush there was a pause while some issues recovered from their lowest points.

Among the heaviest losers were Nickel Plate Railroad, Union Pacific, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Motorola, Phelps Dodge, Standard Oil (N. J.), and U. S. Gypsum.

MacArthur Reports Offensive Turned Into Bitter Reverses

In the 60-mile strip between Allied forces and the Manchurian border.

Other Chinese divisions were known to have crossed the border. "This situation, repugnant as it may be, poses issues beyond the authority of the United Nations Military Council — issues which must find their solution within the Councils of the United Nations and the chancelleries of the world," MacArthur said.

This statement was issued as a final paragraph after his personally signed communique No. 14 was first distributed.

Military observers interpreted MacArthur's statement to mean the Chinese should be stopped by political pressure if possible or else MacArthur should be given authority to strike against the Chinese at their Manchurian base.

Allied planes are under strict orders not to cross the Yalu river boundary in their attempts to bomb out routes for the Chinese into Korea.

But Soviet-built jet planes sweep across the border in attacks on Allied planes and then switch back without pursuit to their safe haven in Manchuria.

Anti-aircraft fire from the Manchurian side of the border, which Allied warplanes are barred from blasting, has thrown up an additional hazard.

The crisis gravely underscored by MacArthur already was before the United Nations Security Council at Lake Success.

U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin came up with a bitter denunciation of Chinese intervention in Korea. A Red Chinese delegation was on hand to press its own charges of American aggression in Formosa, last stronghold of Nationalist China.

Eighth Army intelligence has identified 14 Chinese Communist divisions along the northwest Korea front.

Irvine and Eldred township will be open, also.

Classes were resumed this morning at Irvinedale building in Glade township, although attendance was cut down in the lower grades because these youngsters were unable, in many instances, to reach main roads which had been plowed. Lincoln and Washington schools in Mead township reported like circumstances.

Warren City Lines report it has not been necessary so far to place any additional equipment in operation to handle extra traffic growing out of the fact that hundreds of cars are marooned in their home garages, but that all regular schedules are being maintained in the borough.

The chartered bus which will take Pennsylvania State College students back to the Centre county school was rescheduled for one o'clock this afternoon.

to organize "block parties" to help clear the snow in the Steel City of 1,500,000.

The big U. S. Steel Corporation was among the big industries planning to resume operations. It was forced to close by the storm, making idle some 50,000 workers.

Pennsylvania reported 35 deaths from the storm, 14 in Pittsburgh.

New York's death toll was 33 from the wind and rain storm that hit the east coast from South Carolina to Maine. Some estimates placed the property loss at $100,000,000.

New Jersey also reported 33 persons lost their lives in the storm. In Michigan, where snow ranged as high as 39 inches at Houghton, the toll was 21 and in Kentucky 17.

Searchers Locate Brookville Hunter

Brookville, Nov. 28—(P)—Deer hunter Clyde Kuehnelman, 35, of Brookville didn't get a doe yesterday—just a dose of exposure.

He spent nearly 18 hours on snowy, desolate Blue Ridge in Forest County before he was found by a 50-man searching party. His sixth and last shot guided the rescuers to his location in a snowdrift. He was detained in Brookville Hospital for treatment of exposure and exhaustion.

A searching party still is combing the woods of Clarion county for another lost hunter. He is Bernard Shumaker, 22, of New Bethlehem, who did not return from a hunting trip yesterday in the Mill Creek area.

A third hunter and his son were found huddling over a fire after they were lost all night. They were Bert A. Sisko, about 40, of Oil City, and his son, Bert, Jr. They were found in a heavily wooded Forest county area.

Two Out-of-Town Hunters Are Reported As Missing

Harrah, 14 year old son of Curry C. Harrah, of Franklin, was shot in the left chest by a stray high-powered bullet. He was in serious condition in Oil City hospital last night. The boy was hunting in President township yesterday morning with his father when the injury occurred.

Bill Lord, who resides in the Glassman building in West Third avenue, had a narrow escape from serious consequences while hunting in the vicinity of Pine Woods Monday. Rescued by hunters after he had fallen into a hole filled with icy water, his clothing was dried out and he seems none the worse for the experience.

Harrisburg, Nov. 28—(P)—Pennsylvania's army of deer hunters, hampered by bad opening-day weather, set out today to take advantage of the windup of the two-day doe season.

As the hunters took to the woodlands, the State Game Commission virtually wrote off the 1950 doe season as a casualty of the violent weekend weather.

"The weather has interfered in favor of those who were against the special antlerless season," commented Thomas D. Frye, executive director of the commission.

The commission was depending on the two-day doe season, longest since 1943, to cut down the size of the 700,000-head deer herd.

"There will be a tremendous food problem in handling this large deer herd throughout the winter months," said Frye. "We had expected to cut greatly into the herd."

Only a fraction of the expected 600,000 to 700,000 hunters were able to reach deer areas yesterday. However, with clearing weather, a heavy turnout was expected today.

Many hunters also set out for hunting camps today in preparation for the buck season which opens tomorrow and continues through Dec. 9.

British Air Ministry Decides to Look Into Stories About Blocks

Butcher told reporters, "I don't know what it is."

The Air Ministry said the block which went through the garage roof and the one which landed on Butcher's lawn had been turned in and will be examined.

Tunnore told reporters a passing motorist picked up the block he saw and rode away with it. Little attention was paid to the first story from Devon and no remains from there are available.

But today the Air Ministry decided to step in.

A spokesman asked everybody who finds one of the frozen thunderbolts to bring it in for examination by meteorological experts.

Soldier With Death Sentence Commuted To 20 Years Protests

Gilbert was found guilty of refusing to obey a direct order to return, with 11 other soldiers, to a hill where he had been supposed to be defending an outpost. Gilbert said the hill had been surrounded by North Koreans, that he had led his men out through two ambushes and that he had tried to explain to a superior that they could not return to the outpost.

He reiterated today that "I would give anything to be able to go back to Korea. I would still be there if this hadn't happened. I wrote my wife just the other day that I hoped they would send me back."

He said his wife had kept up his spirits through the months since he was imprisoned.

THE MARKETS

New York, Nov. 28—(P)—The grave crisis in Korea brought a major price break today in the stock market.

Shares were swept down by $1 to more than $3 a share right from the beginning with trading marked by the movement of huge blocks in initial deals.

A number of pivotal issues were slow in opening, an indication that traders on the floor of the exchange had difficulty matching buying and selling orders. Within the first hour, however, most of the leaders had established a price. The swift pace put the ticker tape as much as two minutes late during the first 30 minutes of trading.

General Motors opened on a block of 15,000 shares off 1 1/2 at 46, and Bethlehem Steel on 5,000 shares off 1 1/2 at 44.

Chrysler was off 2 at 68 1/2. Admiral Corp. off 2 at 26. Philco off 2 1/2 at 45 and U. S. Steel off 1 1/2 at 39.

Phelps Dodge started out on 2,300 shares off 3 1/2 at 61. Others lower included Nickel Plate off 4 at 170, Santa Fe off 3 at 130, and Standard Oil (N. J.), Youngs-town Sheet and Tube, Studebaker, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, and Gulf Oil.

The selling blow struck the market when it already was in a weakened condition from two sessions marked by small but persistent losses.

THE RAILROAD MURDER CASE

By R. M. Laurenson

Chapter 28

"JOHNNY, you've worked around here a long time."

"About forty years," replied O'Conner.

"You probably know everyone who's worked on the railroad."

"I know a lot of 'em. Why?"

"Did Eric Linden ever work in the signal department?"

O'Conner considered. You mean that pussy-faced feller that's treasurer or something?"

"That's the one."

"Don't know as he ever worked for the signal department, but he worked different places. Started as a telegraph operator. I think, and was clerk in the traffic department a while."

"Has he ever been up here?"

"Oh, sure." O'Conner spat accurately at the open ash door of the stove. "All the big shots been here. Old Dick was right proud of this job and he was forever droppin' in. All the brass hats on the railroad was here a couple months ago."

"Was Johnson in the party?"

"President of the bank? Yeah, he was along."

"I see." Marc stood up and stretched lazily. He walked to the door, and waved to O'Conner. "So long, Johnny. Much obliged."

Officer. Will you please take that light out of my eye? It hurts."

"Who're you? My orders are, nobody goes into this car."

"A wise precaution," said Marc, fishing in his pocket for his wallet. "Jordan. Here's my pass card. I'm working on this case with Inspector Anderson."

The policeman focused his light on the card proffered by Marc. Then, flashing the light back to his face, he nodded.

"Oh, yeah. I remember you. You was here when we found the body."

Marc smiled. "Right. Now may I go in the car?"

The policeman scratched his jaw dubiously. "Well, Anderson said nobody, but I guess it's all right for you, since you're on the force, in a manner of speakin'."

"Thanks, Officer. I'm sure Anderson'll support your decision. Smoke?"

LEAVING a slightly befuddled minion of the law to puff a cigarette, Marc mounted the steps and entered the car; the same steps and the same car that had held such a gruesome shock for him only a few days before.

He found Cliff, chair tilted against the wall, deeply engrossed in a comic magazine. His feet hit the floor with a thud as Marc opened the door.

"Oh! Howdy, Mistah Jaw'd'n. Di'n' spect to see 'o'."

"Hello, Cliff," said Marc. "I thought you'd be taking care of things."

"He say some lady tol' him to get it to Mr. Richards, thout anybody seen' it. So Ah slips it to Mr. Richards on the sly."

"Did you see the lady?"

"No suh."

"Okay, Cliff. I want to look around again. I see you've cleaned up."

"Yas suh. Dat p'leceman an' he wuz through his snooper an' scratchin' round, so Ah's shined her up. Kin Ah he'd 'o' Mistah Jaw'd'n."

"No, I'm afraid not, Cliff. I've some thinking to do."

Marc walked slowly along the passageway, examining the details of the car. He opened the door to each room as he passed, and looked in.

Entering the lounge, he snapped a light switch and flooded the luxurious furnishings with soft light. The litter of the last evening of occupancy had been removed. No speck of dust marred the bright surfaces. The brass had been burnished and the rugs cleaned.

Marc dropped into the end of the davenport with a sigh, and stretched his legs out. He was reclining against the soft cushions in this position when Cliff softly stepped through the door.

"Mistah Jaw'd'n, suh, wud vo all lik a cup o' coffee an' a—"

Marc leaped to his feet and strode toward the startled porter.

YMCA City League Season Is Launched With Ramblers and Style Shop Winning Openers

YMCA City League Basketball competition is underway at the "Y" gym last night with the Hooktown Ramblers edging the New Process, 44 to 38, in the initial contest and the Style Shop drubbing the Rockets, 63 to 31, in a second game.

The New Process five took an early first quarter lead of 12 to 3, but failed to hold it as the Ramblers pulled ahead at half-time, 20 to 16. Paced by Tom Cannon and Jim Eckman with 15 and 14 points respectively, the Hooktowners lead through the second half. Don Baldensperger was the big boy for the Process tipping the cords for 14 points.

Possessing a winning combination, the Style Shop rocked the Rockets with a 63 to 31 scoring spree. Warren High's towering center last year, Bob "Stud" Simpson, hit the rim with 14 points to lead the victors' scoring. Gail Nelson was right behind him with 11, while Jack White racked up 10. Fran Materson was high man for the losers with seven.

This Thursday Smith & Lawton Atlantic will be paired off with the New Process and the Ramblers against the Youngsville Merchants.

College Football Bowl Picture Is Near Completion

New York, Nov. 28 — (AP) — The College football bowl picture was nearing completion today with the big four—the Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange Bowl games—among 14 already lined up.

At Pasadena, Calif., the New Year's day attraction will be California vs Michigan in the Rose Bowl; in New Orleans' Sugar Bowl it will be Kentucky vs Oklahoma; Dallas' Cotton Bowl will pit Tennessee against Texas, and in Miami's Orange Bowl the Miami Hurricanes will battle it out with Clemson's Tigers.

Five teams remain in the running for the Gator Bowl affair at Jacksonville, Fla.

California's Bears, the Pacific Coast Conference Kings who finished this season with nine victories and one tie, will be in the Rose Bowl for a third consecutive year and hope the third time will prove the charm. They bowed last January to Ohio State, 17-14, and in 1949, to Northwestern, 20-14. Michigan (5-3-1), the big ten champion, appeared in the Rose Bowl in 1948, routing USC 49-0.

Oklahoma (9-0-0), like California, will be playing a third straight time in the same Bowl—the Sugar. Last New Year's, the Sooners drubbed Louisiana State, 35-0, and in 1949 they beat North Carolina, 14-6. Kentucky, (10-1-0) was bidding for a perfect 1950 season before succumbing last weekend to Tennessee, 7-0.

Miami, in nine games so far this season, has won eight but was held to a tie by Louisville University. The hurricanes will wind up their regular campaign Friday night against Missouri. Clemson (8-0-1) was runnerup to Washington and Lee in the Southern Conference race.

Boston Red Sox Have High Hopes For Coming Season

Boston, Nov. 28 — (AP) — With deposed Cleveland player-manager Lou Boudreau in their fold and millionaire owner Tom Yawkey's checkbook wide open, the Boston Red Sox have high hopes of swinging another of their breath-taking baseball deals during next week's major leagues meetings at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The addition of Boudreau, obtained as a free agent, makes Shortstop Vern (Junior) Stephens expendable as trade-bait for much needed pitching strength.

Both General Manager Joe Cronin and Steve O'Neill, his bench pilot, have expressed keen interest in such seasoned pitchers as the Philadelphia Athletics' Lou Brissie and the St. Louis Browns' Ned Garver.

"Now that we have Boudreau, we can afford to give up a regular infielder to get pitchers," O'Neill explained by telephone from his Cleveland home. "As soon as I get to St. Petersburg, I'll find out what pitchers are on the market. Right now we have no deals on the fire."

Boudreau, who practically started in baseball under O'Neill at Buffalo back in 1939, passed up offers from the New York Yankees, Washington Senators, Chicago White Sox and Pittsburgh Pirates, to cast his lot with the Red Sox. The Chicago salary bid was said to be $45,000.

Oklahoma Univ. Is In First Position

New York, Nov. 28 — (AP) — The University of Oklahoma today gained the nation's most coveted College football distinction—No. 1 position in the final weekly Associated Press poll — and by an overwhelming majority.

Of the 319 sports writers and sportscasters who voted, 213 placed the Sooners first. The result gave Bud Wilkinson's team, winner of 30 straight games, 2,993 points.

Only Army, in second place, came close to the Sugar Bowl-bound Oklahomans. The Cadets, undefeated through 28 games, received 38 first-place votes for 2,380 points. Ten points are given for a first-place vote, nine for second, and so on.

Then came: 3-Texas; 4-Tennessee; 5-California; 6-Princeton; 7-Kentucky; 8-Michigan State; 9-Michigan; 10-Clemson.

Local Cage Star Is On Forestry Team

Gail Bimber, cage man on the Warren High Dragon team last year, is said to be playing forward on the State College Forestry School, Mount Alto, team this season.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Bimber, of 205 North South street, Gail is also playing on the Waynesboro Merchants five in the Pennsylvania-Maryland league.

He spent Thanksgiving vacation at his home and expected to return to school last night.

Guessing Game On Dodgers' Manager

New York, Nov. 28 — (AP) — The guessing game concerning who will manage the Brooklyn Dodgers next season was expected to end today with Chuck Dressen the winner.

Dodgers President Walter O'Malley has called a press conference for 2 p. m. (EST) and the fate of Durt Shotton is expected to be decided.

The Associated Press learned yesterday on good authority that Dressen, Dodger coach under the Leo Durocher regime, will be named the new Dodger pilot.

Dressen, who piloted Oakland of the Pacific Coast to the championship this season, left his Oakland, Calif., home last week en route to the major-minor league meetings in St. Petersburg, Fla., next week.

I have to say this much for Hard Luck Joe: he runs into some fairly interesting hands. The other day he worked himself into a real problem ending.

The bidding was far from inspired. North's use of the Blackwood Convention was in the worst tradition. It didn't matter how many aces and kings South had, as long as he had a sound opening bid. What did matter was how solid South's hearts were; and this was something North could never find out by asking about aces and kings.

Moreover, if South's clubs had been just enough stronger to include the king instead of the queen, he would have bid six spades over five no-trump. It might then be impossible to find a safe slam contract.

However, the bidding wound up

WELL - THANKS FOR NOTHIN'!

If he returned a club, dummy would ruff the diamond and cash the ace of clubs. Then the ace of spades would be led. If East ruffed South could over-ruff, draw trumps and cash the jack of clubs. If East discarded, South would discard the jack of clubs and keep the lead in dummy for a trumpless trump finesse!

Joe's hard luck—or part of it, anyway—was that East was good enough to see all this. East actually returned a trump. Joe could draw trumps, but then the clubs were blocked; and he wound up in dummy with a losing spade.

Of course Joe should have made the slam by playing it better. Instead of ruffing a low spade, he should have continued trumps, drawing four rounds. Then he could take the ace of clubs, discard the diamond on the ace of spades, and give up one club trick.

Date for Farmer-Rotary Dinner Set For January 25th

Looking ahead into the new year, Warren Rotarians discussed plans at their weekly luncheon-meeting Monday for the annual Farmer-Rotary banquet and set the date for January 25, the place, the YWCA activities building.

President Francis Caughey was in charge of yesterday's session, meeting at the YWCA with T. R. Sponser, program chairman for November, presenting the guest speaker, Assemblyman Allen Gibson, Sheffield.

Mr. Gibson's talk dealt with the needed tax structure in Pennsylvania, showing, by illustration, percentages of the commonwealth's tax income and outgo. He stressed, particularly, the fact that in the next biennium in taxes will be needed. Genuine interest in the topic was shown in the many questions put to the speaker at the conclusion of his address.

Guests at this week's meeting were Rotarians from Kane and Massachusetts.

STICK PINS WANTED

A south side woman had an ad in last night's Times-Mirror stating she wanted to buy stick pins. The only reply to the ad was this morning at about 7:00 when she was awakened by the ringing of the telephone bell. She answered the call and a voice said, "Are you the party that advertised in the Times-Mirror for stick pins?" All a flutter at the prospect of securing some coveted pins she replied, "Yes, what are they like?" Imagine her surprise when he said: "Well they are just like any other ten pins made of hard wood. I used to work in a bowling alley and when the pins got a little damaged I took them home with me and I have a few of them left that I would sell." Strange as it may seem there is still a little difference between a stickpin and a pin sticker.

Letters to the Editor

Editor Times-Mirror:

In reference to President Harry S. Truman's letter degrading the Marine Corps The men of one of the few Marine bases got together and wrote a new "Marine Corps Hymn." Here it is and I hope you will publish it so Marines and ex-Marines can learn it.

New Marine Corps Hymn
From the Halls of Montezuma
To the shores of Tripoli
We'll police our gosh darned Navy
As long as they're at sea
First to fight the Army's battles
And to win the Navy's fights
And still our old friend Harry Tries to louse up all our rights.

Our flag's been down from every ship
Since the Navy had its start
A Marine detachment in their midst
Keep the fleet from falling apart.

Uncle Harry says we're just police
And he should really know
We've arrested wars since we began
And dealt the final blow.

We have honor; we have glory
We're the finest ever seen
But still our propaganda
Is a second rate machine.
Harry's Army and his Navy
Never looked on heaven scene
'Cause they know that the angels
are in love
With the United States Marines.

REMOVING SNOW

Heavy, packed snow on low-pitched roofs present a problem to many property owners in and around Warren, and the work of removing the same is proving an arduous one. On top of the thick crust of snow are more flakes. There were reports of damage to several downtown buildings. Snow which fell last Friday had been packed and saturated by Saturday's rain. The frozen chunks are of considerable weight and in some cases the snow is as much as three feet thick. In other cases water backed up on the roof and seeped through. Ice which formed at the eaves raised a barrier to impound water under a blanket of snow which prevented it from freezing, with the result that water eventually began to trickle through shingles causing considerable damage in some cases.

SUGAR GROVE TEAM PLAYS IN TITUSVILLE

Working on a 32 to 27 over an Alumni five last week, the Sugar Grove Robots are scheduled to take on St. Joseph's High from Titusville tonight on the Groves home court.

The game will be the first scholastic basketball game of the season for St. Joe's, as well as for Sugar Grove.

Weather conditions made a question mark as to whether the trip could be made from Titusville to Sugar Grove, but latest reports indicate the game will still be played.

YOUR FORESTER

At the time of this writing a heavy snowstorm is in progress, and with it comes the end of the fall fire season. This is also a good time to add up the score, and see what the protection force has accomplished.

From where I sit I believe that never in history of organized fire protection on the Allegheny National Forest have we approached the record achieved during the 1950 season. There were only five fires on the entire Forest and of this number only one occurred on the Northern District.

Since fires are caused by men, women and children there must have been a lot of careful people using the Allegheny Forest during 1950, and I should like to express my appreciation of the part each played in making sure that he or she was not the causative agent of a forest fire. To be sure the weather was very much in our favor this year, but there were plenty of days also when a moment's carelessness upon someone's part could have caused a forest fire.

It is significant that the only fire the Northern Districts had was an incendiary fire, and not a fire the result of carelessness.

The five fires on the Forest burned over only eleven acres out of the 465,000 acres of national forest land under protection.

A taxpayer might ask, after reviewing this record, why we do not reduce the number of lookouts and cut fire expenses in other ways since eleven acres is such a negligible amount of burned over land compared to 465,000 acres under protection.

The answer to that, I think, is the same as the answer to, "Why don't we scrap our army, navy and air force in peace time and save the taxpayers money?"

Fire is a potential aggressor whose actions cannot be predicted with any degree of certainty, over the long run, anymore than the actions of belligerent nations.

In maintaining a fire organization to handle the forest fire potential on the Allegheny, or any other national forest, we must always be prepared for the worst possible fire situation consistent with the fuel types and known risks on the forest.

We think we have the minimum organization to do the job on the Allegheny and keep the burned over area down to an acceptable figure. We also have the organization necessary to expand rapidly and take care of the unforeseen drought years that might cause a bad fire situation next year or not until twenty years hence. Unfortunately, fire equipment, unlike weapons of war, do not become obsolete very quickly, and we are fairly well equipped with the necessary hand tools to equip a lot of men on the fire line.

With the help of all who use the Allegheny Forest we can continue to hold the burned over area to a minimum. Without such help we cannot.
